Work of Bringing to Surface Those Entombed in Utah Explosion Goes On

18 ARE UNIDENTIFIED

Horse Cars to be Introduced in Furthering Rescue Work in Mine

TOTAL INCREASED
Castle Gate, Utah, Mar. 11.—Eighty-nine bodies were recovered up to 11:30 o'clock today from mine No. 2 of the Utah Fuel Company in which 173 miners were entombed Saturday. The progress of the rescue crews was slowed up by cave-ins and twisted pipes.

Castle Gate, Utah, March 11.—Eighty-one bodies had been recovered up to 9:15 a. m. from No. 2 mine of the Utah Fuel Company. Eighteen of them remained unidentified. The missing bodies were the object of search by the numerous crews of rescue men. Company and government rescue workers believe all of the bodies will be removed, by night fall.

Preparations were made last night for the installation of horse-drawn tram cars in the interior of the mine to expedite the removal of the bodies.

Last night undertakers worked in a temporary morgue preparing the bodies for burial.

Last night a carload of coffins arrived and a large force of men worked practically all night in removing them from the car to the morgue. This work was carried on through long lanes of crying women and children, who braved the cold night blast that swept through the cavern.

Castle Gate yesterday for the first time since the disaster that struck practically every home in the camp Saturday when 175 miners were entombed by a series of explosions allowed itself to give way to its emotions. Grief-stricken women, orphan children and men hardened by years of toil in the mines of the district appeared in the streets of the village. With the approach of every conveyance carrying bodies of men from the mine the streets filled rapidly and crowds pressed forward to the morgue. During the afternoon the crowds around the morgue became so large a guard was maintained to keep the streets clear.

At the company cemetery located within the confines of the area of mine No. 2 a force of 76 men worked under large arc lights hastily installed yesterday afternoon continued through the night to prepare graves to receive victims of the disaster. Burial of the victims will start today.

DEMAND FOR LABOR LIGHT

Bismarck Office to be Opened Next Monday

Light demand for farm labor in North Dakota is expected this spring, according to Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor, Joseph Kitchen, in charge of the state employment offices. There has been already in special offices opened, however, he says, some demand for women on farms as housekeepers, for men and their wives for farm work and some men to work by the month.

Special offices have been opened in Minot, with Clyde Nelson in charge and in Grand Forks with Hans Anderson in charge. An office will be opened in Bismarck Monday with Herman Broopp in charge and at Chicago on March 17 with Ed P. Stack in charge.

A suggestion of George E. Tucker, field director of the federal employment bureau, to the effect that the state-federal office cooperate with the Northern Pacific railroad labor department, which seeks men for spring and summer work on the railroad, has been adopted, Mr. Kitchen said.

BANKER WINS WALKING RACE

Flaxton, N. D., March 11.—A walking contest that created almost as much local interest as the "Spark Plug-Yo Ho" race took place here Tuesday when Bertie Nelson, president of the Citizens bank of this city, walked against C. Abbey, manager of the Flaxton Telephone company for a wager of $25. The route was from Portal to Flaxton, a distance of 13 miles. Nelson won, making the distance in two hours and 41 minutes and outdistancing Abbey by 2 1-2 miles. Ten automobiles escorted the walkers.

Mrs. Conklin has won special distinction for her work in behalf of the service men of the state and the Burleigh County Chapter ranks first in the state for number and rapidity with which such cases have been handled.

WEST SEES WORTH OF N. D. SOIL, DECLARES O'CONNOR

Grand Forks, N. D., March 11.—California businessmen realize that the prosperity of agriculture is necessary. If other classes are to prosper, according to J. F. T. O'Connor, Grand Forks attorney who has just returned from a trip to California. He stated that he talked to several persons in California who were planning investment in North Dakota real estate, taking the view that it would probably never be lower than now, and that profits might reasonably be expected in a few years.

SEVER'S BELT FALLS 25 FEET

Minot, N. D., Mar. 11.—Otto Haas, lineman employed by the Northern States Power company, had a miraculous escape from sustaining serious injuries recently when he accidentally slipped his safety belt with a hatchet and fell 25 feet to the earth from a tree where he was cutting limbs. He sustained painful bruises to an ankle and one side, as a result of a fall, but no bones were fractured, the attending physician states. The accident happened at Fourth avenue and First street northwest. Haas will be confined in a local hospital for about a week, it is said.

FORD SHOALS PLAN MEASURE PASSES HOUSE

Representatives Vote to Accept Offer by 227 to 142 Vote After Fight

CITIZENS CELEBRATE

Tennessee Valley People See Visions of Ford Building a City Eighty Miles Long

Washington, March 11.—Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals, pending before congress for more than two years, was approved late yesterday by the house.

By a vote of 227 to 142, the McKenzie bill, which would authorize acceptance of Ford's bid, was passed and sent to the senate where there is uncertainty as to what action, if any, will be taken on it at this session.

Continuously before the house for a week, the McKenzie measure was approved practically in the form in which it was reported by the military committee, which had been informed by Mr. Ford that he would take over the government's nitrate and power project on the Tennessee river under the terms embodied in the bill.

Attached to the bill, however, was the Mackinac amendment, approved by the military committee, which obligates the government to replace the Gorgas steam power plant, recently sold to the Alabama Power Company. Provision is made that this plant, which is not to cost, with a transmission line to nitrate plant number two, more than the $3,472,487 received for the Gorgas property, is to be sold to Mr. Ford, along with nitrate plants numbers 1 and 2, and the Waco quarry, near Russellville, Alabama.

Lease for 100 Years

Under the terms of the bill, Ford will have the right to lease for 100 years dams 2 and 3 at Muscle Shoals, and adjacent power stations. Out-numbered, but fighting stubbornly to the last roll call, opponents of the offer made a futile last minute attempt to bring him under the terms of the federal waterpower act, thereby limiting his lease to 50 years, and to keep in the bill an amendment, adopted Saturday, which would enable the government to "recapture" the properties in the event the Detroit manufacturer failed to live up to his contract in any particular.

On the demand of Chairman Madden of the Appropriations committee, one of the leading Ford advocates, a roll call was demanded just before the final vote on the amendment, and it went out by the bill by a vote of 197 to 176. Party lines were disregarded to a large extent on the final vote, although Democrats as a rule supported the bill.

CITIZENS CELEBRATE

Birmingham, March 11.—Citizens of the Tennessee valley reported their greatest celebration since the armistice on receipt of news that the house had passed the McKenzie bill providing for the leasing of Muscle Shoals to Henry Ford.

Remembering Ford's promise to build an industrial city several miles long, citizens expect a boom provided he is finally given the right to develop the shoals property.

BANK MATTERS MAY GO BEFORE WILLIAMS JURY

Williston, N. D., March 11.—The Williston county grand jury, called by Judge John C. Lowe of Minot to anyone here today, will consist of 23 members who have already been chosen by the jury board. The jury board is composed of Sheriff Erickson, County Auditor Roare and County Treasurer Swinley.

Speculation is rife here as to what matters the jury may investigate. The Williams County Farmers Press in its current issue, declares that while it has been rumored that the jury was called primarily for the purpose of investigating liquor violations, the general impression is that the closing of the Williams County State bank of this city on last June 12 is the reason behind the order and that the institution will come in for a thorough investigation along, perhaps, with other banks that have closed in this county during the past few months.

The jury personnel follows: S. W. Callahan; A. C. Wagener, Williston; Alvin Bean, Wheelock; Ole Lestberg, Williston; Mrs. William Brodick, Williston; W. H. Erickson, Williston; Mrs. Eric Kather, Williston; O. N. Lee, Williston; J. P. Dahl, Williston; Nels L. Larson, Zumbach; E. E. Kreiger, Williston; J. W. Shields, Buford; John P. Hagg, Bonetrill; John Severson, Bonetrill; Peter Olson, McGregor; Ed. Walstead, Ray; Oscar Holmberg, Corinth; James A. Carney, Williston; Mrs. W. F. Gerrity, Wheelock; Frank Acker, Williston; N. W. Colebank, Buford and Helmer Braaten, Grand.

The last grand jury term was held in Williams county a quarter of a century ago, according to local citizens.

HEAR MUTINY IN NEW STATE ARMY SERIOUS

Correspondents Declare That Reports From Dublin Minimized Seriousness

SOLDIERS HANDCUFFED

Motor Lorries and Armored Cars Are Again Rushed Through Dublin Streets

London, Mar. 11.—Dispatches from Dublin correspondents today say the trouble in the Free State Army has been of much wider effect than the official reports admit.

Dissatisfaction with changes in the army is general, says the correspondents and the public has not heard all that has happened. There were incidents in Dublin yesterday recalling the recent troublous times, the correspondents declare, with the rapid movement of armored cars and lorries carrying armed soldiers through the streets and now and then a low-flying airplane.

At one time a party of 40 soldiers handcuffed in pairs was marched through the streets under strong escort. Whether they were mutineers was unknown.

Wires are said to have been cut in many places around Dublin and guards everywhere have been strengthened, including those at army headquarters. Meanwhile Major-General Liam Tobin and Col. Charles Dalton, alleged leaders of the mutiny, continue at liberty.

SAY NORMAL RESTORED

Dublin, Mar. 11.—Free State army headquarters announced early today that the situation following the recent reported mutiny was "absolutely normal in all commands."

MINISTER RESIGNS

Dublin, March 11.—Joseph McGrath, minister of industry and commerce, announced his resignation in the Dail Eireann this afternoon because of "hurdling" in connection with Army troubles.

LEFOR CASE BEFORE JUDGE

Demurrer of State Bonding Fund Is Sustained

Judge C. M. Cooley of Grand Forks, in district court here today, sustained a demurrer to the state bonding fund to the case of L. R. Baird, general receiver of closed banks, against Adam Lefor, former receiver of a Belfield State Bank, in which the receiver charged misappropriation of funds, demanded an accounting and asked $25,000 on Lefor's bond. The bonding fund contended the claim was not filed within the statutory 20 days.

Immediately attorneys for the receiver filed an amended count to cover the claim. There still remained the demurrer interposed by Lefor to be ruled upon.

Attorneys for Lefor raised the question of whether or not Judge Cooley, being of another district, could sit in the case. Judge Cooley stated that many complicated situations had arisen out of the law of the last legislature under which, with a supreme court order, bank receivership matters were placed in the Burleigh district court and Judge Cooley designated to have charge. Judge Cooley said there was a question of just how far this jurisdiction goes.

COUNTY MAKES BOND CLAIM

Williams county has made claim against the state bonding fund for $41,963.58 on the bond of Oscar E. Frazier, former county treasurer, the claim growing out of county money deposited in banks now closed.

MARKED MIGRATION FROM FARMS IN ENTIRE UNITED STATES IS SHOWN

Part of it Occasioned by the Search for New Land, and Moving From One Agricultural State to Another, Department Finds

Washington, March 11.—Almost a fifth of the country's farms had new occupants in 1922.

Nine southern states showed changes in more than a quarter of their farms, the Department of Agriculture announced today after a survey of the situation and only six states, all in New England, showed less than 10 percent change in their farm occupants.

In most of the corn belt and western states changes ranged from 10 to 15 percent.

The chief cause of the turn-over is believed by agricultural experts to be the attractiveness of new land which in the past has set up waves of migration among the population. Another cause is seen in the extent to which farm land has been bought and sold for investment and speculation. In addition the rapid industrialization of the United States besides producing a steady movement of population to the cities brings about constant changes in market opportunities and necessitates readjustments in systems of farming and in sizes of farms while different classes of farmers in this country move in considerable numbers from one agricultural state to another.

STYLES QUILTS STATE PLACE

Wesley Styles, actuary-examiner of the state insurance department, has resigned to take over the management of the Grand Forks branch of the Occident Life Insurance Company at Grand Forks, the company absorbing the Great Northern Life Company of that city. Jacob Barth will fill Mr. Styles' position for the present.

MAJOR NAMES WILLIS AS NOT OHIO SENATOR

Says Man Referred To By That Name in Telegrams Was McLean's Lawyer

"WORKING ON WALSH"

Washington, Mar. 11. After an hour and a half examining telegrams from three rivers, New Mexico, the oil committee resumed its public hearings today by recalling John F. Major, one of E. B. McLean's agents.

Major said McLean had not told him about the conference which the Washington publisher had with Albert B. Fall at Atlantic City in mid-December before Fall wrote the committee he got $100,000 from McLean. The witness testified last Saturday that it was at this conference that McLean and Fall discussed the testimony McLean was to give before the oil committee.

"Willis," who is mentioned in several of the messages, was identified by Major as Wilton J. Lambert, McLean's personal attorney.

The witness said he thought the code word "Eyes" in one telegram referred to E. S. Rochester, attached to the office of Attorney-General Daugherty.

By his message to McLean saying that A. Mitchell Palmer had "parties working on Walsh" Major said he meant simply that there were people inquiring of Walsh as to whether McLean was to be called to testify.

Major said he returned from Palm Beach with C. Bascom Slemm, secretary to President Coolidge, and had been to see him several times since at his invitation.

The witness said his calls on Slemm were "purely social."

MANY REBELS SURRENDER

Generals Continue to Give Up in Mexico

Mexico City, Mar. 11.—(By the A. P.)—The continued surrender of rebel leaders is reported.

General Jose Domingo Gratiola, formerly on the staff of General Enrique Estrada, Jalisco rebel commander, has given himself up in Mexico City, it is said.

TEACHERS ALSO MUST PAY STATE INCOME TAX, IS ANNOUNCEMENT

All state income tax reports must be filed with the state department here by March 15, it is announced by the state tax commissioner's office. There is no extension of time granted.

California Senator to Speak in Bismarck Tonight as Part of Campaign

DEMOCRATS STILL SCRAP

Murphy Supporters Issue Answer to Wooldge's Appeal to Dems of State

Senator Hiram Johnson, Republican candidate for the presidential nomination, entered the second day of his swing through North Dakota today. At Beach yesterday afternoon and Dickinson last night, the California Senator was to make an appeal to voters in Mandan this afternoon and will speak at the city auditorium in Bismarck at 8 o'clock tonight. Senator Johnson is the only candidate for the presidential nomination to tour the state.

O. M. Hector of Fargo, state campaign manager, issued a statement at Fargo asserting that "Senator Johnson will carry North Dakota in the March primary by a liberal majority." He made his statement after a trip over the state. He asserted that the California Senator was gaining rapidly "in the towns and cities where the business people are realizing that his support of the McNary-Haugen bill may be the means of putting the state back on its feet."

SORLIE HERE

A. G. Sorlie of Grand Forks, league candidate for Governor, is here today for a conference with members of the league organization.

SENATORS FOR COULTER BILL

U. S. Senator Lynn J. Frazier and Edwin F. Lund apparently are at odds with some of their constituents over the so-called Coulter $50,000,000 livestock loan bill. Both the North Dakota Senators are supporting the bill in Congress, while it has been condemned in many North Dakota meetings of Nonpartisans. Senator Frazier, also apparently favors the McNary-Haugen bill. He is quoted in the Congressional Record as follows:

"The little bill (the Coulter bill) that is up before us now is only a drop in the bucket. It makes but very little difference one way or the other in my estimation. It will help some farmers to get on their feet, but a bill like the McNary-Haugen bill or the Norris-Sinclair bill will be a real relief to the farmers of Connecticut say that he would support any measure that would honestly help the farmers. I shall take pleasure in calling that statement to his attention if he takes the same attitude when these other bills come up that he has taken here today."

PRESIDENT IN MESSAGE ASKS EARLY ACTION

Would Have Reduction Made Effective by March 15, Income Tax Paying Time

SETBACK IN HOUSE

Representatives Had Declined to Lay Aside Business for Tax Reduction

Washington, Mar. 11.—(By the A. P.)—President Coolidge today sent a special message to Congress recommending a reduction of 25 per cent in income taxes for 1923 be authorized before March 15.

The President believes that the importance of the reduction would justify the laying aside of all other legislative business for its consideration.

Message of President The text of the message follows:

"It had been my earnest hope that a 25 percentum reduction in taxes to be paid for the current year might be provided before the 15th of March current.

"Many people have been expecting that such would be the case and deferred their tax returns accordingly. It is a matter of such imminent importance that I have no hesitation in recommending that the public welfare would be advanced by laying aside all other legislation and enacting a resolution for this purpose, which ought to be by unanimous consent.

"The taxpayers, the business interests, agriculture, industry, finance, in fact, all the elements that go to make up the economic welfare of the people of America would greatly benefit by such action.

"It would remove an element of uncertainty from the current financial year at once, which would be a strong stimulant to business with its resultant business to the wage earner and the agriculture of our country."

"It is impossible to see that any harm could accrue from this action and there is every prospect of resulting benefit which would be very great.

"It would be a positive step in the right direction which is needed at this time to justify the confidence of the people that the government is intent solely on the promotion of the welfare without regard to any collateral objects."

Washington, Mar. 11.—Determination to hold night sessions of the senate finance committee in an effort to speed up disposition of the revenue bill was voiced today by Chairman Smoot. The most important administrative sections of the measure and all of the tax schedules remain to be acted upon.

Secretary Mellon will be heard, the committee before the tax law is studied. Mr. Smoot has declared that some of the rates as recommended by the house will have to be revised, insisting the measure as stands "falls by $100,000,000 of raising sufficient revenue."

Mr. Mellon will be asked to present his views on the house bill and to estimate the amount of revenue which will be necessary for the measure to provide.

Mr. Smoot has indicated he will propose a sales tax as an amendment to the bill. Leaders of both parties have repeatedly declared against such tax.

OBJECT TO 23 CUT

Washington, March 11.—The movement to obtain immediate action in the proposed 25 percent reduction in income taxes payable this year was revived in the house but as quickly turned down. Republican leaders decided that action could not be obtained on a resolution before March 15, when the first installments are due.

Republican members of the ways and means committee meeting with Representative Longworth, party leader, agreed, however, that if the revenue bill, already passed by the house and containing this provision, meets with any delay in enactment, a separate resolution to make the cut effective before June 15, would be proposed.

HEAR MUTINY IN NEW STATE ARMY SERIOUS

Correspondents Declare That Reports From Dublin Minimized Seriousness

SOLDIERS HANDCUFFED

Motor Lorries and Armored Cars Are Again Rushed Through Dublin Streets

London, Mar. 11.—Dispatches from Dublin correspondents today say the trouble in the Free State Army has been of much wider effect than the official reports admit.

Dissatisfaction with changes in the army is general, says the correspondents and the public has not heard all that has happened.

There were incidents in Dublin yesterday recalling the recent troubles, with the rapid movement of armored cars and lorries carrying armed soldiers through the streets and now and then a low-flying airplane.

At one time a party of 40 soldiers handcuffed in pairs was marched through the streets under strong escort. Whether they were mutineers was unknown.

Wires are said to have been cut in many places around Dublin and guards everywhere have been strengthened, including those at army headquarters. Meanwhile Major-General Liam Tobin and Col. Charles Dalton, alleged leaders of the mutiny, continue at liberty.

SAY NORMAL RESTORED

Dublin, Mar. 11.—Free State army headquarters announced early today that the situation following the recent reported mutiny was "absolutely normal in all commands."

MINISTER RESIGNS

Dublin, March 11.—Joseph McGrath, minister of industry and commerce, announced his resignation in the Dail Eireann this afternoon because of "muddling" in connection with Army troubles.

LEFOR CASE BEFORE JUDGE

Demurrer of State Bonding Fund Is Sustained

Judge C. M. Cooley of Grand Forks, in district court here today, sustained a demurrer of the state bonding fund to the case of L. R. Baird, general receiver of closed banks, against Adam Lefor, former receiver of a Belvidere State Bank, in which the receiver charged misappropriation of funds, demanded an accounting and asked $25,000 on Lefor's bond.

The bonding fund contended the claim was not filed within the statutory 30 days.

Immediately attorneys for the receiver filed an amended complaint to cover the situation. There still remained a demurrer interposed by Lefor to be ruled upon.

Attorneys for Lefor raised the question of whether or not Judge Cooley, being of another district, could sit in the case. Judge Cooley stated that many complicated situations had arisen out of the law of the last legislature under which, with a supreme court order, bank receivership matters were placed in the Burleigh district court and Judge Cooley designated to have charge.

COUNTY MAKES BOND CLAIM

Williams county has made claim against the state bonding fund for $41,600.58 on the bond of Oscar E. North Dakota, former county treasurer, the claim growing out of county money deposited in banks now closed.

MARKED MIGRATION FROM FARMS IN ENTIRE UNITED STATES IS SHOWN

Part of it Occasioned by the Search for New Land, and Moving From One Agricultural State to Another, Department Finds

Washington, March 11.—Almost a fifth of the country's farms had new occupants in 1922.

Nine southern states showed changes in more than a quarter of their farms, the Department of Agriculture announced today after a survey of the situation and only six states, all in New England, showed less than 10 percent change in their farm occupants.

In most of the corn belt and western states changes ranged from 10 to 15 percent.

The chief cause of the turn-over is believed by agricultural experts to be the attractiveness of new land which in the past has set up waves of migration among the population. Another cause is seen in the extent to which farm land has been bought and sold for investment and speculation. In addition the rapid industrialization of the United States, besides producing a steady movement of population to the cities brings about constant changes in market opportunities and necessitates readjustments in systems of farming and sizes of farms while different classes of farmers in this country move in considerable numbers from one agricultural state to another.

STYLES QUILTS STATE PLACE

Wesley Styles, actuary-examiner of the state insurance department, has resigned to take over the management of the Grand Forks branch of the Occident Life Insurance Company at Grand Forks, the company absorbing the Great Northern Life Company of that city. Jacob Barth will fill Mr. Styles' position for the present.

MAJOR NAMES WILLIS AS NOT OHIO SENATOR

Says Man Referred To By That Name in Telegrams Was McLean's Lawyer

"WORKING ON WALSH"

Washington, Mar. 11.—After an hour and a half examining telegrams from three rivers, New Mexico, the committee resumed its public hearings today by recalling John F. Major, one of E. B. McLean's agents.

Major said McLean had not told him about the conference with Albin T. Fall at Atlantic City in mid-December before Fall wrote the committee he got $100,000 from McLean, that the California Senator was gaining rapidly "in the towns and cities where the business people are realizing that his support of the McNary-Haugen bill may be the means of putting the state back on its feet."

Willis, who is mentioned in several of the messages, was identified by Major as William J. Lambert, McLean's personal attorney.

The witness said he thought the code word "Eyes" in one telegram referred to E. S. Rochester, attached to the office of Attorney-General Daugherty.

By his message to McLean saying that A. Mitchell Palmer had "quit working on Walsh" Major said he meant simply that there were people inquiring of Walsh as to whether McLean was to be called to testify.

Major said he returned from Palm Beach with C. Bascom Slemmons, secretary to President Coolidge, and had been to see him several times since at his invitation.

The witness said his calls on Slemmons were "purely social."

MANY REBELS SURRENDER

JOHNSON HERE TO ASK VOTES OF CITIZENS

California Senator to Speak in Bismarck Tonight as Part of Campaign

DEMOCRATS STILL SCRAP

Murphy Supporters Issue Answer to Wooldge's Appeal to Dems of State

Senator Hiram Johnson, Republican candidate for the presidential nomination, entered the second day of his swing through North Dakota today. At Beach yesterday afternoon and Dickinson last night, the California Senator was to make an appeal to voters in Mandan this afternoon and will speak at the City Auditorium in Bismarck at 8 o'clock tonight. Senator Johnson is the only candidate for the presidential nomination to tour the state.

O. M. Hector of Fargo, state campaign manager, issued a statement in Fargo asserting that "Senator Johnson will carry North Dakota in the March primary by a liberal majority." "He made his statement after a trip over the state. He asserted that the California Senator was gaining rapidly "in the towns and cities where the business people are realizing that his support of the McNary-Haugen bill may be the means of putting the state back on its feet."

SORLIE HERE

A. G. Sorlie of Grand Forks, league candidate for Governor, is here today for a conference with members of the league organization.

SENATORS FOR COULTER BILL

U. S. Senator Lynn J. Frazier and Edwin F. Ladd apparently are at odds with some of their constituents over the so-called Coulter $50,000,000 livestock loan bill. Both the North Dakota Senators are supporting the bill in Congress, while it has been opposed by many North Dakota meetings of Nonpartisans.

Senator Frazier also apparently favors the McNary-Haugen bill. He is quoted in the Congressional Record as follows:

"The little bill (the Coulter bill) that is up before us now is only a drop in the bucket of money that very little difference one way or the other in my estimation. It will help some farmers to get on their feet; but a bill like the McNary-Haugen bill or the Norris-Sinclair bill will be a real relief to the farmers. I was glad to hear the Senator from Connecticut say that he would support any measure that would help the farmers. I shall take pleasure in calling that statement to his attention if he takes the same attitude when these other bills come up that he has taken here today."

LABOR MAN FOR COOLIDGE

"No Union man need be ashamed to vote for Calvin Coolidge for president," was the message in a nutshell given in Devils Lake by James Knox, member of the United Mine Workers of America, when he delivered the first campaign address of the season to a large gathering.

Mr. Knox has indicated he will propose a sales tax as an amendment to the bill. Leaders of both parties have repeatedly declared against such tax.

TEACHERS ALSO MUST PAY STATE INCOME TAX, IS ANNOUNCEMENT

All state income tax reports must be filed with the state department here by March 15, it is announced by the state tax commissioner's office. There is no extension of time granted.

In a letter directed to superintendents of schools, to clear up a misunderstanding that school teachers are exempt from the state income tax, Tax Commissioner C. C. Converse says:

"The state income tax law of North Dakota imposes a tax on the entire net income received by every resident of North Dakota, with the exception of two classes of income tax or income received from the United States or its possessions, or upon obligations of the state of

PRESIDENT IN MESSAGE ASKS EARLY ACTION

Would Have Reduction Made Effective by March 15, Income Tax Paying Time

SETBACK IN HOUSE

Representatives Had Declined to Lay Aside Business for Tax Reduction

Washington, Mar. 11.—(By the A. P.)—President Coolidge today sent a special message to Congress recommending a reduction of 25 percent in income taxes for 1923 be authorized before March 15.

The President believes that the importance of the reduction would justify the laying aside of all other legislative business for its consideration.

Message of President

The text of the message follows:

"It had been my earnest hope that a 25 percentum reduction in taxes to be paid for the current year might be provided before the 15th of March current.

"Many people have been expecting that such would be the case and deferred their tax returns accordingly. It is a matter of such imminent importance that I have no hesitation in recommending that the public welfare would be advanced by laying aside all other legislation and enacting a resolution for this purpose, which ought to be by unanimous consent.

"The taxpayers, the business interests, agriculture, industry, finance, in fact, all the elements that go to make up the economic welfare of the people of America would greatly benefit by such action.

"It would remove an element of uncertainty from the current financial year at once, which would be a strong stimulant to business with its resultant business to the wage earner and the agriculture of our country."

"It is impossible to see that any harm could accrue from this action and there is every prospect of resulting benefit which would be very great.

"It would be a positive step in the right direction which is needed at this time to justify the confidence of the people that the government is intent solely on the promotion of the welfare without regard to any collateral objects."

Washington, Mar. 11.—Determination to hold night sessions of the senate finance committee in an effort to speed up disposition of the revenue bill was voiced today by Chairman Smoot. The most important administrative actions of the measure and all of the tax schedules remain to be acted upon.

Secretary Mellon will be heard by the committee before the tax rates are studied. Mr. Smoot has declared that some of the rates as required by the house will have to be revised, insisting the measure as it stands falls by $100,000,000 of raising sufficient revenue.

Mr. Mellon will be asked to present his views on the house bill and to estimate the amount of revenue which will be necessary for the measure to provide.

Mr. Smoot has indicated he will propose a sales tax as an amendment to the bill. Leaders of both parties have repeatedly declared against such tax.

OBJECT TO '23 CUT
Washington, March 11.—The movement to obtain immediate action in the proposed 25 percent reduction in income taxes payable this year was revived in the house but as quickly turned down. Republican leaders decided that action could not be obtained on a resolution before March 15, when the first installments are due.

DISABLED VETS MEETING HERE

Many Problems of Importance Considered by Committee

The State Executive Committee of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War held a successful meeting here at the office of the State Adjutant. Many problems in regard to the disabled were discussed in line of training and hospitalization. A recent survey of the Veterans Bureau reveals the fact that we have hundreds of ex-service men suffering with active T. B. as direct results of poisonous gases, flu and pneumonia received while in active service. As a matter of fact these cases were never diagnosed as T. B. until the past year and therefore have deprived the veterans from receiving aid from the Federal Government due to the present law.

The Executive committee has petitioned the Senators and Congressmen to use their influence in extending the time limit for the presumption of traceability of tubercular and neuro-psychiatric cases incident to service be extended from three years as it now stands to five years.

The committee also outlined plans for the State Convention which is to be held at Fargo May 10, 1924. The members of the committee are Oscar Selvig, Chas. E. Wilson, B. Nelson, V. E. Anderson, V. G. Swan, Philip Elliott and C. E. Knudsen. Mr. Williams, Commander of the Fargo Chapter represent him at the meeting.

COMPLIMENTS PAID TALMADGE PICTURE HERE

Many high compliments were paid to "Ashes of Vengeance" by those who saw it at the Eltinge theatre yesterday. It is a most ambitious motion picture combining a marvelous spectacle of the 16th Century and a love story of delicate charm executed in thoroughly entertaining manner. Naught but praise is due for the magnificent settings of this film. Not only do they suggest the time and locale of the story, but endow the whole with a realism that transports the spectator to the days of chivalry.

But it is the story itself which stands out from these massive settings, a story of hereditary hate and desire for vengeance which is dissipated by the valor of a man upon whom humiliation in every form is visited, and turns to an exalted love which wipes out a long existing feud of two noble families. It would require columns to describe the rush of incident, of physical and emotional conflict through which this transition is accomplished. Mob scenes, thrilling sword fights, romance and political intrigue figure in a succession of situations in natural and logical sequence and dominating it all is Norma Talmadge, more beautiful than ever, seemed to us, as the proud Yolande de Breux, more regal, more admirable in her emotional scenes.

And opposite her, Conway Tearle is superb as the brave and noble de Vrienc, despised by Yolande when brought into her house by her brother, Comte de la Roche, his enemy, after sacrificing himself for his fiancée and becoming the slave of la Roche. Other prominent members of the cast are Courtenay Foote as Comte de la Roche, Wallace Berry as Duc de Tours and Josephine Crowell as Catherine de Medici. The story centers about the Huguenot oppression. The picture remains at the Eltinge for today and tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday.

Party lines were not discernible in the result, southern Democrats and eastern Republicans joining in opposition to the proposal which was denounced as "communistic in theory" and entailing an unwarranted intrusion of the government into an already highly competitive business. The appropriation was proposed as an amendment, offered by Senator

Mothers You Can Prevent Children From Taking Cold

Next Time They Come in Wet and "Sniffling" Rub This Vapor Salve Over Throat and Chest

When children come in from play with feet wet, noses blue and hands like lumps of ice, you feel sure that they are "in for a cold."

But the next time try Vicks. At bedtime rub this vaporizing salve well over throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth.

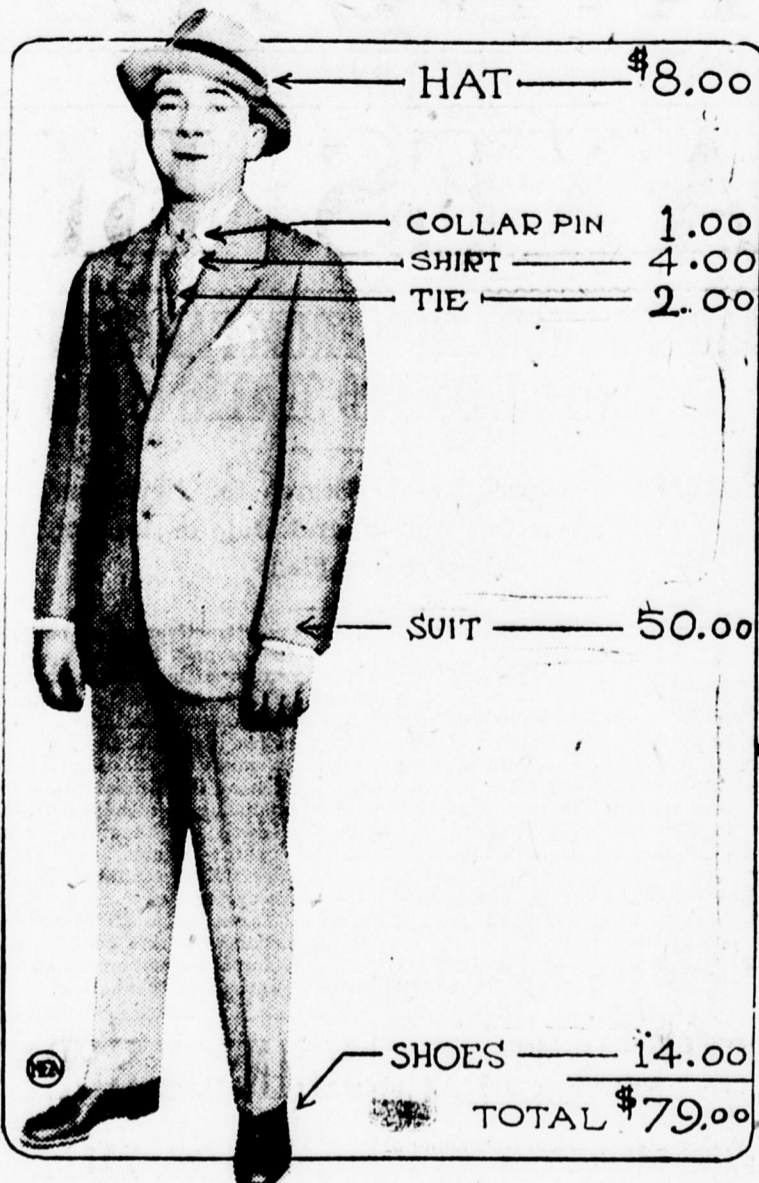

The body heat releases the ingredients—Menthol, Camphor, Eucalyptus, Juniper Tar, etc.—in the form of vapors, and these vapors go directly to the air passages, stimulating the mucous membrane to repel germ attacks.

At the same time Vicks increases the circulation of the blood through the chest region, thus helping to prevent any congestion developing.

If applied in time, Vicks will prevent many colds from getting a start and its use doesn't disturb the child's digestion as constant internal dosing is so apt to do.

SAYS CAPITAL IS 'WETTEST'

Admiral Characterizes Prohibition Enforcement as Failure

New York, March 11.—Rear Admiral Chas. P. Plunkett, commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard, declared yesterday at the police trial of Deputy Inspector Geo. R. Wakefield, that prohibition was a failure. He characterized Washington as the wettest city in United States.

Inspector Wakefield, who has charge of the district which includes the navy yard, is charged by Police Commissioner Enright with failure to enforce the Volstead act.

Admiral Plunkett said he believed the police were doing everything in their power to clean up "conditions." He testified to have seen 20 federal injunctions to padlock places asked for by the police, pigeon-holed by the federal authorities.

Where did you come from before taking charge of the navy yard? the witness was asked.

"Washington, D. C., the wettest city in the United States" was the reply.

"Wetter than New York City?" "Yes," answered the admiral.

POLICE PROBE STATEMENT OF LOUISVILLE MAN

Louisville, March 11.—While police continued investigation today of the imprisonment of William Gates, which reached a climax Saturday night when Gates, according to his statement, shot and killed his jailer, Richard Heaton, and fled from a "room of horrors," W. Clarke Otte, assistant state's attorney, prepared to question the widow of the slain man.

That she had lived in fear for four years because of the jealousy manifested by her husband was a statement credited to Mrs. Heaton in an interview published today. Twice in the four-year period she was quoted as having said he had fired at her, adding that on one occasion he explained the shot was fired accidentally.

Gates, who declared he killed his erstwhile friend in a room where Heaton had made an improvised "operating table, with a pistol, his captives had overlooked in searching him, was at liberty under $1,000 bail to await hearing on a murder charge March 15.

There was a good attendance Friday night at the meeting. The boys were full of "pep" on account of the camp discussion.

A number passed tests. Although there are many passing tests, some must hurry in order to meet the requirements if they want to go to camp.

Each scout can find out exactly what his requirements for the coming camp are from the scribe of their troop.

The resignation of Alfred Muir was accepted.

All the troops of Bismarck met Saturday night at the High School to discuss camp and decide on the color for the neckerchief. There was a fair attendance. They decided to adopt maroon for the color.

All the scouts going on the trip or helping the Rotary Club the 24th and 25th of April must have a complete uniform consisting of the following: Scout stockings, breeches, scout shirt, neckerchief, scout hat and scout belt. No army or other suitable goods will be permitted.

In order to get the material every scout should place his order with S. E. Bergeson & Son not later than next Saturday.

184 EGGS FROM $1.16 WORTH OF FEED

In a test recently conducted in Nebraska, in which careful records were kept, one poultry raiser fed 141 chickens for a year at a cost of only $1.16 per bird, and the hens laid an average of 184 eggs apiece.

Good poultry adds a lot more to a farmer's income than to his expense—and the income is a dependable, cash income.

The City National Bank recommends to all its former patrons plenty of poultry as a source of ready money.

Germans Would Get American Trade

Bremerhaven, March 11.—The Columbus, the new steamer of the North German-Lloyd Line which will make her maiden trip to New York next spring, is said to have a larger passenger capacity than any ship afloat, close to 1,800. She is built especially with the idea of accommodating passengers, and little space has been provided for cargo.

JOHNSON HERE TO ASK VOTES OF CITIZENS

The speaker told at length the history of the famous Boston police strike, which Calvin Coolidge, then governor of Massachusetts, ended by his determination to place law and order and protection of American citizens above the desire of a small class. Mr. Knox made it plain that the American Federation of Labor was not in sympathy with the Police men's union of America, and he told of his own work in Boston, done at the behest of the American Federation of Labor, to assist Governor Coolidge to end the strike. At that time Mr. Coolidge spoke the famous phrase, "I am for America first."

ANSWER WOOLLEDGE

An answer to the recent appeal to Democrats of Gaius M. Woolledge, as chairman of the Democratic state committee, has been answered in a statement prepared by James E. Campbell of Mandan, elected chairman of the state committee at Valley City when Mr. Woolledge was declared ousted. Henry Holt of Grand Forks, secretary, and the executive committee named at Valley City, Campbell and his committee are supporting R. H. Murphy for Democratic national committee. The Minot conference called by Mr. Woolledge is assembled.

"Prominent in the Minot meeting were men who have actively supported the Nonpartisan League Republican candidates for state and federal offices," declares the statement. "F. O. Holstrom of Bismarck, whose interests in league candidates is well known, was present and participating. In an interview with the Bismarck Tribune, Mr. Holstrom stated that he has been retained by the Woolledge-Perry Democrats, to enjoin Governor Nestos from submitting the 'no-party' election laws to a vote of the people at the presidential primary election March 18. The fact that Mr. Holstrom did actually appear in court in a futile attempt to prevent the submission of these election laws, indicates that his statement was probably true. Mr. F. F. Burchard and Mr. J. Nelson Kelly of Grand Forks took an active part in the Minot meeting. Mr. Kelly openly boasted at a meeting in Grand Forks, just prior to the Minot meeting, that he had worked against the election of J. F. T. O'Connor for United States Senator in 1922. Dr. Platon of Fargo also took an active part in the meeting at Minot. Shortly after the Minot conference, John Loomis, present editor of the North Dakota Nonpartisan, announced the press that Dr. Platon would be the Democratic nominee for Governor in the June primary."

"H. H. Perry of Ellendale was endorsed for the office of national committeeman at the Minot meeting. Mr. Perry's record in the Senatorial election in 1922 is a matter of common knowledge among Democrats in his section of the state. Democrats in Dickey county are opposing Perry because of his failure to support Mr. O'Connor and other Democrats on the ticket in his home county."

EGG TARIFF IS NECESSITY

Fargo, N. D., Mar. 11.—"If the tariff bill on eggs, introduced by Congressman Royal H. Weller of New York, is passed by Congress the poultry raisers of this state will be receiving such a low price for eggs that they will be producing at a loss," declares C. A. Harton, poultry specialist at the North Dakota Agricultural college.

The bill, explains Mr. Barton, would reduce the tariff on eggs from eight cents a dozen to two cents a dozen. It would also reduce the tariff on eggs out of shell, or the egg yolks and white, from six cents to two cents a pound and the tariff on powdered and dried eggs would be reduced from 18 cents a pound to 10 cents a pound.

"A few years ago the tariff was similarly lowered and the immediate result was that eggs from China and other foreign countries flooded the market so that the price of eggs in this country dropped alarmingly and the American poultryman received less for a dozen eggs than it cost to produce them," Mr. Barton states.

Even now with the protection of the slight tariff that exists on eggs the North Dakota farmers are receiving but 15 cents a dozen at local points in the state.

Germans Would Get American Trade

Bismarck, March 11.—The Columbus, the new steamer of the North German Lloyd Line which will make her maiden trip to New York next spring, is said to have a larger passenger capacity than any ship afloat, close to 1,800. She is built especially with the idea of accommodating passengers, and little space has been provided for cargo.

Cabins extend into the very bow and stern of the ship, and every effort has been made to provide recreation for the passengers on all decks. The gross tonnage of the ship is 30,000. She is 850 feet long, 82 feet wide, and has a draught of 32 feet.

JOHNSON HERE TO ASK VOTES OF CITIZENS

In substituting his plea to Union labor, Mr. Knox, who is an orator of exceptional ability, he pointed out the things which the president has done for the laboring man, and of the warm spot he has in his heart for labor unions which adhere to the American principles of law and order. Mr. Knox took occasion to rap radicalism in labor, and pointed out how the United Mine Workers are fast cleaning from their membership radical agitators whose sympathies do not harmonize with American ideals.

The speaker told at length the history of the famous Boston police strike, which Calvin Coolidge, then governor of Massachusetts, ended by his determination to place law and order and protection of American citizens above the desire of a small class. Mr. Knox made it plain that the American Federation of Labor was not in sympathy with the Police man's union of America, and he told of his own work in Boston, done at the behest of the American Federation of Labor, to assist Governor Coolidge to end the strike. At that time Mr. Coolidge spoke the famous phrase, "I am for America first."

ANSWER WOOLIDGE
An answer to the recent appeal to Democrats of Gailus M. Woolidge, as chairman of the Democratic state committee, has been answered in a statement prepared by James E. Campbell of Mandan, elected chairman of the state committee at Valley City when Mr. Woolidge was declared ousted, Henry Hall of Grand Forks, secretary, and the executive committee named at Valley City. Campbell and his committee are supporting R. B. Murphy for Democratic national committeeman. The Minot conference called by Mr. Woolidge is assailed.

"Prominent in the Minot meeting were men who have actively supported Nonpartisan League Republican candidates for state and federal offices," declares the statement. "F. O. Hellstrom of Bismarck, whose interests in league candidates is well known, was present and participating. In an interview with the Bismarck Tribune, Mr. Hellstrom stated that he has been retained by the Woolidge-Perry Democrats, to enjoin Governor Nestos from submitting the 'no-party' election laws, to a vote of the people at the presidential primary election March 18. The fact that Mr. Hellstrom did actually appear in court in a futile attempt to prevent the submission of these election laws, indicates that his statement was probably true. Mr. F. F. Burchard and Mr. J. Nelson Kelly of Grand Forks took an active part in the Minot meeting. Mr. Kelly openly boasted at a meeting in Grand Forks, just prior to the Minot meeting, that he had worked against the election of J. F. T. O'Connor for United States Senator in 1922. Dr. Platon of Fargo also took an active part in the meeting at Minot. Shortly after the Minot conference, John Bloom, present editor of the North Dakota Nonpartisan, announced in the press that Dr. Platon would be the Democratic nominee for Governor in the June primary.

"H. H. Perry of Ellendale was endorsed for the office of national committeeman at the Minot meeting. Mr. Perry's record in the Senatorial election in 1922 is a matter of common knowledge among Democrats in this section of the state. Democrats in Dickey county are opposing Perry because of his failure to support Mr. O'Connor and other Democrats on the ticket in his home county."

EGG TARIFF IS NECESSITY

Fargo, N. D., Mar. 11.—If the tariff bill on eggs, introduced by Congressman Royal H. Weller of New York, is passed by Congress the poultry raisers of this state will be receiving such a low price for eggs that they will be producing at a loss," declares C. A. Barton, poultry specialist at the North Dakota Agricultural college.

The bill, explains Mr. Barton, would reduce the tariff on eggs from eight cents a dozen to two cents a dozen. It would also reduce the tariff on eggs out of shell, or the egg shells and whites, from six cents a dozen to two cents a dozen and the tariff on powdered and dried eggs would be reduced from 18 cents a pound to 10 cents a pound.

"A few years ago the tariff was similarly lowered and the immediate result was that eggs from China and other foreign countries flooded the market so that the price of eggs in this country dropped alarmingly and the American poultryman received less for a dozen eggs than it cost to produce them," Mr. Barton states. "Even now with the protection of the slight tariff that exists on eggs the North Dakota farmers are receiving but 15 cents a dozen at local points in the state."

Mr. Barton, who is secretary of the North Dakota branch of the American poultry association, has received word from the national officers requesting that North Dakota poultrymen write their representatives in Congress protesting the bill and urging that it be defeated.

To Lighten Burdens Of German Students

Bismarck, March 11.—Berlin University in making every possible effort to lighten the burdens of students who are endeavoring to earn their own living, and at the same time carry on their university work under the financial collapse which has robbed many of them of all their savings.

Professor Gustav Roethe, rector of the university, said recently that the efforts of the school on behalf of its students have been met more than half way by the student body, which strives to conceal its privations and works on earnestly under most distressing conditions. But the hardships have driven many students out of school. Unemployment has become so general in Berlin that part-time work which formerly went to students, is frequently taken over by men and women who will give more time, or are better equipped for the task.

All students organizations and clubs which have been created to help the self-sustaining students have been consolidated into one big union with Dr. Michaelis, former chancellor of the republic, at its head. This organization will open more dining halls where meals will be served to students at a low rate, or even free. As a great majority of the students cannot afford heated and lighted rooms, the university has arranged to keep a number of study halls open until late at night for students who want to use them.

SHIP MANY HOGS
Van Hook, N. D., Mar. 11.—Instead of just a half car load of hogs and the other half of cattle, the farmers of this community surprised Mr. Olson of the First National Bank and brought in hogs for shipment enough to fill two solid cars. The two cars were shipped to the South St. Paul market Friday morning. Chas. A. Wales accompanied the cars.

Eighteen farmers co-operated in this shipment and the shipment including 109 hogs of good size, the total weight being 28,000 pounds.

NEW DECLINES ON WHEAT MART

Reports of Farm Stocks Leads to Increased Selling

Chicago, Mar. 11.—Fresh declines took place today in wheat in the early trading. Bearish aspects of government reports of farm stocks led to increased selling pressure and forced into operation numerous stock orders. Selling appeared to be in progress here against Winnipeg. Chicago opening prices which ranged from 1-8 to 3-4 cents lower, May $1.09 1-2 to $1.09 3-4 and July $1.02 1-2 to $1.09 7-8 were followed by a moderate further setback and then something of a rally.

Subsequently unfavorable crop reports together with corn strength led to an additional recovery. The close however, was unsettled, 3c to 4c net lower, May $1.09 1-2 to $1.09 3-4 and July $1.02 1-2 to $1.09 7-8.

"Picric" Blondes Promenade Manila

Manila, March 11.—Local residents have commented upon the many members of the artillery corps U. S. A., seen on the streets of Manila recently with strikingly blonde hair. Inquiries were made and it developed that these men have been engaged in shifting ammunition on the "Rock," as Corregidor Island, the fortress at the entrance to Manila Bay, is known, and that the picric acid in the explosives had turned their hair as yellow as a quarantine flag.

DISABLED VETS MEETING HERE

Many Problems of Importance Considered by Committee

The State Executive Committee of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War held a successful meeting here at the office of the State Adjutant. Many problems in regard to the disabled were discussed in line of training and hospitalization. A recent survey of the Veterans Bureau reveals the fact that we have hundreds of ex-service men suffering with active tuberculosis, direct results of poisonous gases, flu and pneumonia received while in active service. As a matter of fact these cases were never diagnosed as tuberculosis until after the war and therefore have deprived the veterans from receiving aid from the Federal Government due to the present law.

The Executive committee has petitioned the Senators and Congressmen to use their influence in extending the time limit for the payment of traceable of tuberculosis and neuro-psychiatric cases incident to service be extended from three years as it now stands to five years.

The committee also outlined plans for the State convention which is to be held at Fargo May 19, 1924. The members of the committee are Oscar Selvig, Chas. E. Wilson, B. Nelson, V. E. Anderson, V. G. Swan, Philip Elliott and C. E. Knudson. Mr. Williams, Commander of the Fargo Chapter represent him at the meeting.

Many high compliments were paid to Ashes of Vengeance by those who saw it at the Eltinge theatre yesterday. It is a most ambitious motion picture combining a marvelous spectacle of the 16th century and a love story of delicate charm executed in a thoroughly entertaining manner. Naught but praise is due for the magnificent settings of this film. Not only do they suggest the time and locale of the story, but endow the whole with a realism that transports the spectator to the days of chivalry.

But it is the story itself which stands out from these massive settings, a story of hereditary hate and desire for vengeance which is dissipated by the valor of a man upon whom humiliation in every form is visited, and turns to an exalted love which wipes out a long existing feud of two noble families. It would require columns to describe the rush of incident, of physical and emotional conflict through which this transaction is accomplished. Mob scenes, thrilling sword fights, romance and political intrigue figure in a succession of situations in nature and logical sequence and dominating it all is Norma Talmadge. More beautiful than ever, she seemed to us as the proud Yolande de Breze, more regal, more admirable in her emotional scenes.

And opposite her, Conway Tearle as superb as the brave and noble Duke, deposed by Yolande when brought into her house by her brother, Comte de la Roche, his

Mothers You Can Prevent Children From Taking Cold

Next Time They Come in Wet and "Sniffing" Rub This Vapor Salve Over Throat and Chest

When children come in from play wet and cold, you feel sure that they are "in for a cold."

But the next time try Vicks. At bedtime rub this vaporizing salve well in throat and chest and cover with warm flannel cloth.

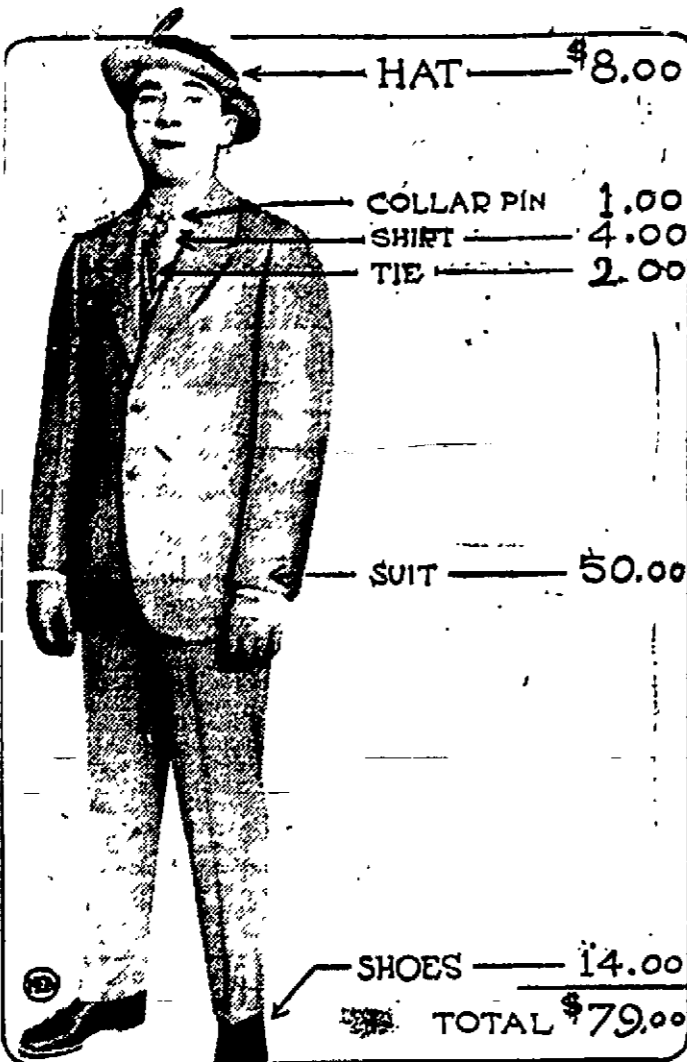

The body heat releases the ingredients—Menthol, Camphor, Eucalyptus, Juniper Tar, etc.—in the form of vapors, and these vapors go directly to the air passages, stimulating the mucous membrane to repel germs.

At the same time Vicks increases the circulation of the blood through the chest region, thus helping to prevent any congestion developing.

Hasn't your child ever gotten a start and his nose doesn't breathe? Vicks will clear his nose and soothe his throat so he can sleep.

HAT — $8.00
COLLAR PIN — 1.00
SHIRT — 4.00

SUIT — 50.00
SHOES — 14.00
TOTAL $79.00

Well, fellows, the question of what to wear and when to wear it need trouble you no longer. If you want to dress to knock 'em dead, just take a tip from Steve Hannagan, NEA Secretary and The Tribune correspondent.

Steve sees what's what in the way of clothes as he bowls along Broadway and Fifth Avenue. So the other day he went over to just about the finest clothes shop in New York City and put on several outfits to let you get a peep at them.

Today he shows you the newest in business wear. From hat to shoes it cost only $79. And it looks like a million, doesn't it?

The two-button, English-American model, three-piece suit, the product of a prominent ready-to-wear manufacturer retails at $50 and up. It is of light gray material with pin stripes in colors an inch apart.

The coat is cut broad at the shoulders, small at the hips, has welt pockets and no vent. The trousers are wide and may be slipped on or off over the shoes. The vest is roll collar.

The gray hat costs $8 and is extremely serviceable. It can be crushed in various shapes to suit fancy of the wearer.

A collar-attached shirt of plain blue material cost only $4, and a gold-plated collar pin ($1) holds the patterned silk foulard tie ($2) neatly in place.

Plain brogue shoes of pebble-grained, comfortable last, and durable weight, are $14.

The only alteration made in any of the outfit was in the length of the trousers.

Harris, Democrat, Georgia, to the Norbeck-Burness bill which would appropriate $75,000,000 to finance diversification of crops among "one-crop" farmers. Objections made to the Harris amendment were laid also against the parent measure. The Norbeck-Burness bill was still the unfinished business of the senate when adjournment was taken.

AMENDMENT TO COULTER BILL IS KILLED OFF

Washington, March 11.—In the first record vote at the session on a farm relief measure, the senate yesterday defeated, 11 to 28, the proposed appropriation of $5,000,000 to be used in financing fertilizer purchases.

Party lines were not discernible in the result, southern Democrats and eastern Republicans joining in opposition to the proposal which was denounced as "communistic in theory" and entailing an unwarranted intrusion of the government into an already highly competitive business.

The appropriation was proposed as an amendment, offered by Senator

SAYS CAPITAL IS 'WETTEST'

Admiral Characterizes Prohibition Enforcement as Failure

New York, March 11.—Rear Admiral Chas. P. Plunkett, commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard, declared yesterday at the police trial of Deputy Inspector Geo. R. Wakefield, that prohibition was a failure. He characterized Washington as the wettest city in United States.

Inspector Wakefield, who has charge of the district which includes the navy yard, is charged by Police Commissioner Enright with failure to enforce the Volstead act.

Admiral Plunkett said he believed the police were doing everything in their power to clean up conditions. He testified to have seen 20 federal injunctions to padlock places asked for by the police, piece-mealed by the federal authorities.

Where did you come from before taking charge of the navy yard? the witness was asked.

Washington, D. C., the wettest city in the United States was the reply.

"Wetter than New York City?" "Yes," answered the admiral.

Plan To Give Annual Charity Ball

At the regular meeting of the Catholic Daughters of America, held last evening at St. Mary's school hall, plans were made for the holding of the Seventh Annual Charity Ball on Easter Monday.

The Catholic Daughters is a strictly charitable organization, not fraternal as is often stated, and spend their time and funds wherever there is need for the same, it is stated. In the past the organization has depended upon the receipts of the annual Easter ball for a great help in the financing of the Charity work of the organization. A fine orchestra in the city has been engaged and it has been announced that the ball will be held in the Grand Pacific Hotel dining room and plans are under way to make this annual event eclipse all former social features undertaken by the Daughters.

CONCERNING THE TARIFF

Congressman George M. Young points out forcibly to the people of North Dakota how they may be injuring themselves by constant misrepresentation of the workings of the Republican tariff law through either misunderstanding or ignorance of the facts. There has been much opposition in North Dakota to the "drawback" provision in the Fordney-McCumber tariff; the opposition has found expression in Nonpartisan League meetings and in the resolutions of the "Real Republican" convention alike. Granted that Mr. Young's figures are true, the situation has been grossly misrepresented.

It is pointed out by him, first, the "drawback" provision of the law means nothing. He says: "Drawback provisions have been in every tariff law, both Republican and Democratic, in one form or another, but no wheat worth mentioning has ever come in under such provision, and absolutely not one bushel of wheat has been imported under that provision of the Fordney-McCumber law."

There is no "milling-in-bond" provision in the law, he points out, but there is a "manufacturing-in-bond" provision in the law. It is not true, however, if Mr. Young's figures which presumably are official, are correct, that this provision destroys the value of the tariff law. For example, under the Underwood (Democratic) tariff law 57,398,002 bushels of Canadian wheat were imported in 1921; under the Fordney-McCumber (Republican) tariff law but 19,944,863 bushels of wheat were imported in 1923. While there is not available any comparison of the importations of manufactured-in-bond wheat for 1921 because wheat was free under the Underwood law, the total amounted to but 9,280,787 bushels in 1923 under the Fordney-McCumber law.

As Mr. Young aptly remarks: "If Northwestern people continue to assert that a wheat tariff is valueless, Congressmen from the east and south, who as a rule are skeptical about the value of a wheat tariff, might in some future Congress take Northwestern wheat growers at their word."

There is a case for argument on the manufactured-in-bond provision. It has been insisted upon by representatives from manufacturing communities not only with reference to wheat but with reference to other raw materials imported, on the ground that to bring foreign materials in the country to be manufactured and sold abroad brings employment to American workmen. There is not, however, valid ground for the declaration that the wheat tariff does not keep Canadian wheat out.

President Coolidge has taken a step in the interest of the Northwestern farmers which ought to further reduce the amount of Canadian wheat imported, by increasing the duty from 30 to 42 cents a bushel under the flexible provisions of the Fordney-McCumber law. Tariff protection is essential to Northwestern wheat growers; the people of the Northwest ought to admit it, uphold this Republican principle and let the rest of the country know they will fight for it.

ALL A LITTLE CRAZY

No person in the world is entirely sane, says the great mental specialist, Dr. Russell of London. He points out that we all have, at times, abnormal moments mentally. "Every person has certain peculiarities and eccentricities which no absolutely normal person would have. Mild and harmless peculiarities and eccentricities are, strictly speaking, forms of insanity."

Sanity is relative. Insanity is merely a departure from the normal. Normal is the average. A person crazy in one generation might be considered sane in the next.

EXPLOSIVES

Germany didn't dare start the World War until her chemist, Haber, discovered how to unite nitrogen and hydrogen atoms to yield 8 per cent ammonia. This made Germany independent of the supply of natural nitrates in Chile, from which the British fleet could bar her.

Our own government has recently discovered a similar process yielding 14 per cent of ammonia. This should mean cheap fertilizer for farmers.

Incidentally, it emphasizes that the breeding place of modern war is the scientific laboratory.

MEXICO, GOOD CUSTOMER

Mexico is a larger customer of Uncle Sam than is generally realized. Last year America sold the Mexicans nearly 121 million dollars worth of goods. Mexico sold us the same and over 19 million dollars worth in addition. Revolution recently has been cutting deeply into this business.

But a huge trade future is in store, back and forth across the Rio Grande. A generation of education would make Mexico one of our best customers.

MOVIES

Just three years since American movies began invading Germany. Now half the films shown over there are American-made.

One result of this is that only 98 film-producing companies are operating in Germany, compared with 555 in 1921. These figures should interest those critics who frequently moan that Germany "has it all over us" in movie making.

Work hard and save your money. Rich American tourists at Nice drink 10,000 cocktails a day.

When an earthquake shock hit Tarbes, France, some may have thought it was Germany paying her debts.

Italy will have a peace contest, the prize to be 100,000 lire, but more liars than that may compete.

Senator Brookhart is president of the National Rifle Association, proving one senator aims well.

A SUGAR COATED PILL

In some quarters we have heard it said the business men are opposing the Fordney crop lien law for selfish reasons, which is pure bunk. We don't suppose there is a business man in the state, unless, perhaps a few who hold crop mortgages, who gives a rap, personally, whether or not the initiated law passes. It certainly will not affect this office in any way. But to many it seems almost a crime that farmers cannot see that the passage of the law while at first it appears to benefit them, will ultimately prove a curse, for a greater credit destroyer could not be conceived.

And the worst of the thing is that, if approved by the people, the law can only be repealed by a two-thirds majority of the legislature, which means that it may stick or the statute books fill kingdom come.

To the farmer who wants to bear his creditor, to whom he has given a crop mortgage, it will be a grand thing the first time it is tried, but when he wants the next year, to raise money on a crop mortgage, he will find he is through. It will be impossible for him to rent or buy land on the crop mortgage plan, for no one will do business with his security liable to be wiped out by the crop lien of the farmer and his family.

The crop mortgage is the only liquid security many farmers can give to tide them over a season, and to risk this credit for a delusion seems worse than folly. If you think crop mortgages are an evil, vote for the law. It will eventually do away with the evil.

In certain quarters, we expect to be classed with the "opponents" of the farmer by taking this stand, but we listened to the arguments of the bill when it was introduced in the last legislature by the farmer members thereof, and we are but passing on what we learned at that time and what just ordinary common sense leads us to believe the damage will be if the law is approved.—Beach (N. D.) Advance.

THE PRESIDENT'S SOUND STEPS TO AID AGRICULTURE

Day by day there is accumulating evidence that President Coolidge is exerting every effort to rightly solve the agricultural problems of the country and particularly of the great Northwest. On top of the organization work put into operation the machinery of the private finance corporations, comes the announcement that the President, under the flexible provisions of the tariff and as a result of the findings of the tariff commission is expected to at once increase the tariff on wheat four and one-half cents a bushel. This method of aiding the farmer are sound and will help in the work of building a more permanent agriculture.

The President, since he entered the White House, has perhaps given more consideration to the question than to almost any other subject. He recognizes the agricultural problem which faces the country today and that its solution would mean the betterment of every section of the country.

When there is a difficulty which affects so large a population, so large an interest and so important an interest as that of agriculture, it is distinctly a national question. It scarcely needs to be pointed out that agriculture is of vital importance to our country. It is the primary source of sustenance, enterprise, industry and wealth. Everyone should know that it is basic and fundamental. Without a healthy, productive and prosperous agriculture, there can be no real national prosperity.

The President thus indicates how fully he appreciates the need of agriculture. The steps already taken appear to be of far-reaching and direct importance. Such steps, together with the indirect help which would accrue to agriculture through an honest reduction of income taxes, should give the farming industry of the Northwest new heart.—Fargo Forum.

The body of George S. Roberts, pioneer merchant at Shields, was brought to the city and taken to Dawson for burial. Mr. Roberts, who was about 79 years old, has been a resident of North Dakota for forty years, for a number of years engaging in the ranching and milling business in Dawson. Later he moved to Shields, where he has maintained a hardware store. He was well known to many of the earlier residents of the city and the western part of the state. Death was due to bronchial trouble.

LETTER FROM SALLY ATHERTON TO BEATRICE GRIMSHAW, CONTINUED

Mr. Prescott was very much put out, as I told you, over Leslie's making herself conspicuous at the Paula Porter matinee.

"I wish that Summers would have left my wife alone," he said. Now isn't that just like a man, Bee? I don't suppose Dick Summers knows anything about John Prescott's escapades, but like a good puffer man he looked up all the popular young married women in the town and got a corking good story in the paper about it.

Miss Porter in fact got herself invited to Leslie's home and even that was put in the paper with the explanation that she spent the afternoon in Mrs. Prescott's nursery holding his baby!

"This, of course, made Mr. Prescott more enraged than ever. Yesterday he was as cross as a bear and snapped me up every time I said anything to him. Yet I like him immensely, Bee. He's so darn human. I haven't had a word from Sam since I left, which I guess is perfectly all right. He can get along without me now. His eyes are all right. I have a feeling he is glad to be alone, and I know I am."

I saw Leslie for the first time at the matinee party. She has grown very lovely—hasn't she? Mrs. Ellington was with her. She is also a very beautiful woman and I imagine is very fond of Leslie for she seemed to beam with pride whenever I spoke to her of Leslie's appearance.

Mr. Prescott doesn't like Mrs. Ellington for some reason. Do men ever like their wives' feminine friends more than they like their masculine ones?

I'm quite crazy about my work here. It is a pleasure to work with Mr. Prescott even when he is grouchy—he is so funny about it, just like a great big silly boy.

Last evening after Paula Porter left town he took a great bunch of gardenias home to his wife, and I think he had as great fun showing them to me as he did in presenting them to her. Although he did not say so, I could see he was trying to make up for something he had done that was not just right.

"Do you think she will be pleased?" Of course she will be pleased! What woman would not, to receive gardenias from any man, even her husband?

"You don't think much of husbands—do you, Mrs. Atherton?" "Well I've always found it easier to put up with a man's idiosyncrasies if I were not married to him. As I gave him that parting shot he left with the flowers, and now I must also leave or the elevator will be closed."

Write me often, Bee. I love your letters and I love to write to you. Affectionately, SALLY.

XXXVII (Continued)

The men were looking very uncomfortable. The women were gazing at their hostess with round apologetic eyes. Mrs. de Lacey, the youngest and prettiest of the married women, had clasped her hands as if worshipping at an altar.

"It seems too terrible when we look back upon it," she exclaimed, and she infused her tones with the tragic ring of truth. "Dear Madame Zattiany, that for even a little while we thought the most awful things about you. We'd heard of the wonderful things surgeons had done to mutilated faces during the war, and we were sure that some one of them had taken one of your old photographs—how could we even guess the truth? How you must have hated us!"

"How could I hate you?" Madame Zattiany smiled charmingly. "I had not the faintest idea you were discussing me."

"But why—why—did you shut yourself up so long after you came when you must have known how mother and all your old friends longed to see you again?"

"I was tired and resting." She frowned slightly. Such a question was a distinct liberty and she had never either taken or permitted liberties. But she banished the frown and met her tormentor's eyes blandly. She had no intention of losing her poise for a moment.

"Ah! I said it!" cried Mrs. de Lacey. "I knew it was not because you felt a natural hesitation in showing yourself. To me you seem brave enough for anything, but it must have taken a lot of courage."

"Courage?"

"Why, yes! Fancy—well, you see, I'm such a coward about what people say—especially if I thought they'd laugh at me—that if I'd done it I should have run off and hidden somewhere."

"Then what object is in invoking the aid of science to defeat nature at one more point? And I can see one thing more they could do. However, and that was to make the dinner a failure. They barely replied to the efforts of the men to "make things go" and gloom settled over the table. Madame Zattiany continued to talk with placidity to the men beside her, and Clavering started a running and with Anne Goodrich who, almost angry as herself, loyally helped him, on censorship, the latest books and plays, even the situation in Washington and they continued their painful efforts until the signal was given to leave the table.

XXXVIII

The men did not linger in the dining-room. The women, protesting that they were later than usual for the opera, left immediately after they returned to the drawing-room. There was a cool insolence in their "good-byes" and there was no doubt that they meant them to be final.

Only Anne Goodrich shook the importunate hostess' hand warmly and asked if she might come some day to tea.

The husbands-perforce went with their wives, after farewells that sounded more like as reprovals, and so did the younger men, except Clavering and Harry Vane. Clavering planted himself on the hearthrug, and Vane, scowling at him, lingered uncertainly.

He plunged his hands into his pockets, and, very red, stood in front of Madame Zattiany, who was leaning back in her chair and fanning herself lazily. "I feel like apologizing for those beastly women," he blurted out.

"Apologize?" Madame Zattiany raised her eyebrows.

"Yes. Can't you see they came here tonight with the deliberate intention of making New York too hot to hold you? So that you'd clear out? They'd made up their minds that you'd changed yours about returning to Europe. They hate you. They're used to being jealous of one another, but this has knocked them silly and they can't get used to it. It's—it's—oh, it's too awful! I almost died of shame."

"I really do not understand. Do you mean to tell me they meant to be rude? I thought they were rather naive and charming."

"Darned hypocrites. They hoped to make you simply expire with embarrassment. But you were splendid. They must feel like naughty children that have been stood in a corner."

Madame Zattiany laughed. "Then I have unwittingly been playing my part in a little comedy. How stupid they must have thought me! But I really hope for their sakes that you are mistaken."

"She rose and held out her hand. 'I am going to ask you to excuse me, Mr. Vane. I have a small commission for Mr. Clavering, who has kindly waited. And I am very tired.'"

Vane's face fell and he looked resentfully at Clavering, in whom he instantly recognized a rival. But there was nothing to do but go and he went.

When Madame Zattiany heard the front door close she told the footman on duty in the hall to put out the lights and go to bed.

Then she walked down the room to the library door. "Will you put out these lights?" she asked Clavering. "I believe we still have a fire in here."

WELFARE LAWS OF STATE ARE GIVEN PRAISE

North Dakota Ranked Highest Among Those With Advanced Legislation

ACTIVITIES REVIEWED

During the past twelve years 29 states and the District of Columbia have at some time created official commissions for the study and revision of child-welfare work, in order to bring their laws concerning child-welfare work up to the 20th century standards.

States in which such commissions have done active work are: Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, South Carolina, South Dakota, Utah, Virginia, West Virginia, and Wisconsin. Three additional states have had special committees for child-welfare legislation. These are: Alabama, Colorado, and Illinois. New commissions are this year organizing for work in Florida, Iowa, and Pennsylvania.

The organizing and accomplishments of these commissions are described in a report of the children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor.

Develop Unevenly

Laws concerning children have developed unevenly and spasmodically in the various states. It is pointed out, resulting in legal systems which include antiquated statutes in one field, progressive statutes in another, and in many cases, gaps in the laws at important points. The object of the child-welfare commission movement has been to study all laws concerning children, to revise and coordinate them so that each state may afford the best possible protection to its children, and through publicity and education to secure the cooperation of the public in the effort to carry into effect the changes recommended by the commission.

Commissions have considered a wide variety of statutes affecting the interests of children. Some of the subjects considered by many of the commissions include juvenile courts, the care of delinquent, dependent, and neglected children, mothers' allowances, adoptions, children in industry, protection of maternity and infancy, child health, and the general protection of children (including marriage and guardianship laws).

North Dakota Ranks High

Among the most successful of the state commissions have been those of North Dakota, Virginia, and Minnesota. Out of 25 bills submitted to the first session of the North Dakota legislature following the report of its commission, 20 were passed. In Virginia 18 out of the 28 bills recommended to the general assembly by the commission were passed. In Minnesota out of the 43 measures recommended 35 were enacted into law. "The value of the work of state child-welfare commissions does not lie entirely in the percentage of their recommended bills that are enacted into law," the Children's Bureau points out, "the real value of the work of a commission lies in the educational work it has done, the interest it has stimulated, and the unity of purpose that it has developed among the child-welfare workers of the state, fully as much as in the program of legislation that it has succeeded in placing upon the statute books."

Point To Achievements

As an example of successful work by a state child-welfare commission, a summary of the achievements of the North Dakota children's code commission, one of the most recent commissions, is given. The commission began its work by making studies of child-welfare conditions in the state. These studies not only showed the needs of the children throughout the state but also interested parents and local communities in the commission's work. On the basis of the facts secured, the commission drafted bills providing for modern standards to the laws concerning illegitimate children, treatment of crippled children, child labor, school attendance, abandonment or neglect of wife and child, and the guardianship of children.

During 1923 new commissions were authorized or existing commissions were at work in Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, New York, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Utah and the District of Columbia.

BY VISSER-HOOFT Explorer and Mountain Climber

Stockholm, March 11.—If unknown regions beckon you, if you would walk where a white man never walked, you have plenty of opportunity.

The greater part of the world has been mapped and equipped with tourist hotels, pays taxes, buys flippers, but there still are regions to lure the explorer.

One of the most important of these regions is in central Asia, where the great mountain ranges, the Himalayas and the Kara-Korum, run parallel. The first is widely known. But the Kara-Korum, said of the Himalayas, has been seldom visited.

Coolie Transports

On the Kara-Korum ranges are the greatest glaciers on earth. The highest peak is 28,250 feet high, 855 feet lower than Mount Everest. Many great sections of the Kara-Korum mountains have never been visited by white men. Even the natives regard the mountains with superstitious fear and dare not venture up the ice slopes.

My wife and I have just returned after spending four months in the Kara-Korum mountains. We climbed to a height of 17,900 feet, climbed until intense cold and the rarity of the air forced us to turn back.

Travel was most difficult. Our horses and yaks had utmost difficulty in crossing the high mountain passes and the swiftly running streams. At the 15,000-foot elevation we had to leave our pack animals for they could climb no higher.

In the boulder-strewn valleys and on the glaciers it was often nearly impossible to find a suitable place to pitch our tents.

Natives Fearful

For seven days while in the southern Sasir mountains we were forced to stay within our tents because of the intense cold. Had we ventured outside them we would have been frozen.

The country—even the valleys—lacks vegetation.

We found it most difficult to deal with the natives, the Ladakhi, who closely resemble their Tibetan neighbors.

stant fear of devils. They were afraid to venture out on the glaciers. One day as we were climbing a dangerous place on a deep ice-slope, two of the coolies were seized with a sudden fit of madness. It was only with difficulty that we managed to hold them and prevent them from leaping over the precipice. They were suffering from the effects of the rarified air.

AS SEEN BY POPULAR MECHANICS MAGAZINE

Man-Made Quakes Test Building's Stability

Tests to determine the type of building best adapted to withstand earthquakes are made on a machine which reproduces, with realistic intensity, the horizontal and vertical vibrations caused by a genuine tremor. The device is the invention of two Japanese professors, and consists of a platform on which a model house is constructed on a reduced scale. The base is then made to sway and shake as the surface of the earth does in a seismic disturbance, by means of levers.

Laughter-Proof Tribe Found in Wilds of Ceylon

For more than 2,000 years, it is said, laughter has been unknown to the Veddas, a tribe of aboriginal inhabitants of Ceylon, who have maintained a secluded existence in caves and jungles of the region. Cut off from other peoples and subsisting on bats, owls, and crows that they shoot with arrows, these strange people are said to have lost entirely the sensation of laughter. They are thin and flabby, and a fat man is unknown to them. Efforts of a scientist, who recently visited them, to produce smiles by tickling them on the soles of their bare feet or in the ribs, met with no success. Their stony countenances did not even wince.

To restore the color of a shellac surface that has become white in spots, hold a heated iron over the spots.

Women Play Part in Building of Modern Skyscrapers

That the needs of women must be given as much attention as is accorded the sinking of the foundations of a modern skyscraper, is disclosed in a report of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers. This consideration is reflected chiefly in planning for adequate and attractive rest rooms which, it is declared, can no longer be classed as luxuries. Also, human frailties must be taken into consideration, including the habits of messenger boys penching corridors and jumping down the stairs. The pencil habit has given rise to the term "pencil line" for the height of marble wainscoting, which is raised to such a level that marks may be easily cleaned from the walls. Awning fires are being prevented through dipping of the fabric in a fire-proofing substance.

"Automatic" Car Jack

When working on the rear end of an automobile, or under it, it is usually necessary to jack up one end of the car to provide more space to work. The illustration shows a pair of simple homemade jacks for this purpose. They are made of 2 by 6-in. unplanned lumber, and constructed as shown in the upper figure, each consisting of 2 by 6-in. base, two support blocks and a top board of the same material. The top board is pivoted on one of the support blocks by means of a piece of 1/2-in. iron pipe, loosely held in place by large staples; it must be about twice as long as the base and beveled at one end as shown, this end being slightly heavier than the other so that the board will fall to the position indicated in the upper figure.

The jacks are placed close to the wheels at the front or rear, and the car driven on. A hook is provided on one support block to keep the top board down, and a short length of iron pipe or rod, fitted loosely in holes drilled through the sides of the top, prevents the wheels from running off the jack while the work is being done, thus making the work perfectly safe.

WHY BANKS?

LESSON IV

By J. H. PUBLISHER, Chairman.

Committee on Public Education, American Bankers Association.

Formerly the giver paid to have his money kept in a safe place. Today he is paid interest by banks which keep his cash.

Large sums. Is this interest on money saved and deposited in the bank, the only gain to the depositor from saving?

MONEY SAVED AND DEPOSITED IN BANKS—Funds for the banker to loan out on farm mortgages, bank or other farm bonds; railroad, municipal or government bonds; or notes of foreign merchants and manufacturers. Therefore

SAVING is assisting the farmer to raise

J. H. Publisher, the railroad to run trains, the town, city, state or nation to build schools for the children of the depositor and his fellow citizens or construct water works or other public improvements. Saving also equals helping the butcher, baker and grocer to do business so that food is brought within reach of the depositor and the manufacturer to make shoes, clothing and the many things people need to live.

Every saver, therefore, is not only putting away money against a rainy day and earning interest on it, but is also making it possible for himself and others to have the luxuries, comforts and necessities of life—to enjoy all the advantages of a greater and better civilization. Thus, the saver benefits every saver, gains a great deal more than merely interest on his money.

CONTEST FOR LEGION SLOGAN IS ANNOUNCED

North Dakota Department
Already Making Plans For
St. Paul Convention

MEETINGS PLANNED
Commander Streeter and Adjutant Williams to Hold Series in State

Fargo, N. D., March 11.—Plans have already been announced by the North Dakota Department of The American Legion for their activities at the National Convention to be held at St. Paul, Minnesota, September 15th-19th inclusive. The first move of the North Dakota Legion is to announce a contest to obtain the best suggestions for a slogan and insignia to be used. Both slogan and insignia will be used in working out the details of some cap or banner to be worn by North Dakota people at St. Paul, which will advertise North Dakota. Suggestions for slogan and insignia must be representative of the state. T. E. Whelan of St. Thomas, member of the Executive Committee from the First District, has donated two prizes, each being $10.00, to the winners in the contest. There are no rules and regulations that have to be followed. Anyone may participate in the contest. All suggestions should be sent to Department Headquarters, The American Legion, 315 Broadway, Fargo, North Dakota not later than April 5th. The Executive Board will pick the winning slogan and insignia.

TO HOLD MEETINGS

Of the eight Republican candidates for the seven positions as delegates-at-large all are pledged to Coolidge except United States Senator George H. Moses.

Gasoline vs. Ice Cream Soda

IN recent years, the price of gasoline has been discussed widely and at length. It has been the subject of legislative discussions and investigations. It has served in some instances as a political vehicle for aspiring candidates. Because gasoline plays such an intimate part in all our lives the theme has been a popular one. Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is America's leading refiner of gasoline and, therefore, is keenly interested in all phases of such discussions. For the benefit of those who would have the subject illuminated, this Company will present, in the next few weeks, some side-lights on this question. The average tank wagon price of gasoline in the ten Middle Western States served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is approximately equal to the price of an ice cream soda—which comparison we make merely as an example. The ice cream soda satisfies a passing desire—it is pleasant—it is nourishing. A gallon of gasoline renders a vital service—it will take your car a dozen or a score of miles on an errand of business, pleasure, or mercy. It will bring the doctor to administer to the sick—it will propel a fire engine to save property—it will harvest grain—and in innumerable instances does gasoline render an essential service. Gasoline is a vital cog in the wheel of industrial progress. Gasoline is the cheapest commodity in the world—in proportion to the service it renders. To make this service available to all; to enable every one of the thirty million people of the Middle West to get gasoline when and where he wants it, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has built up, and maintains, a system of distribution so comprehensive that its gasoline may be had every few blocks in the city and every few miles in the country. The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) counts its system of distribution a major achievement, because its benefits accrue to the man who buys two gallons of gasoline as well as the man who needs a thousand gallons.
